0900 – 1000 Doors Open & Networking

Session 1: How to Develop a Health & Wellbeing Strategy

1000 - 1100

Developing a health and wellbeing strategy is incredibly complex – especially for the large organisations bringing forward multi-million/billion pound schemes where numerous firms and sub-contractors are also involved. We'll hear in this session on the approach of some of the biggest UK developers.

The Guinness Partnership; Liz Skelton, Director of Health & Safety

Mates in Mind; James Rudoni, Managing Director

Kier; Tracy Smith, Health & Wellbeing Ambassador

Session 3: Flexible Working & Living – The Future of British Life?

1300 - 1400

The debate on flexible working and living – whether it be working hours/days, office vs home working – has been ongoing for a while but the current situation has created a big wave with the working environment unlikely to be the same again and our living needs altered. In this session we'll discuss the lessons learnt and the changes and trends this could bring.

Newforma; Clara Rettinger, Executive

Moda; James Blakey, Planning Director, Moda

Timewise Foundation; Angela Goldsmith, Consultant

Canary Wharf Group; Andy Haigh, Senior Sustainability Manager

Session 4: Talent in Construction - Developing Youth, Keeping Experience and Diversifying Gender

1430 - 1530

The industry currently faces big issues – a lack of gender diversity and older workers aging out of the workforce faster than new workers are replacing them. How do we attract more people into the industry, how can we retain talent for longer, what role do skills and training play?

Real Estate Balance; Sue Brown, Managing Director

Diversecity Surveyors; Bola Abisogun OBE, Founder & Executive Director

Countryside; Marion Whitty, Head of Talent & Development

Black Professionals in Construction; Amos Simbo, Chairman
