

Programme

0900 – 0915 Doors Open & Networking

Breakout Session – Yeme Architects

0915 – 0945

Yeme's latest exciting project involves the regeneration of the former Dunlop Rubber mill in Leicester which will be redeveloped with smart city, integrative design. Amir will also delve into his extensive knowledge of the sector having been involved in major mill redevelopments in West Yorkshire and give insight into how mills can play role in our future societies.

Yeme Architects; Amir Hussain, Chief Executive

0945 - 1000 Networking & Exhibition

Session 1: Mills – Their Potential Through Regeneration

1000 - 1100

Leading figures at the forefront of the conversation will share their expert knowledge, looking at best practice and examples of great regeneration with open Q&A from the audience and thought-provoking discussion.

Chair: Session Sponsor: (Available - click for details)
Priestley Group; Nathan Priestley, Chief Executive Officer
Historic England; Catherine Dewar, Regional Director, North West
Calderdale Council; Kate Peach, Principal Conservation Officer
Obstrat; Haroon Shaikh, Director

1100 - 1130 Networking & Exhibition

Session 2: Mills – Opportunities for Development

1130 - 1230

There are numerous derelict mills across the UK – and landowners and developers will share insight on potential schemes which could be brought to the fore.

Chair: Session Sponsor: (Available - click for details)
Rushbond; Mark Finch, Director, Real Estate
Kirklees Council; Nigel Hunston, Team Leader (Town Centre Conservation and Design) at Kirklees Council
Rochdale Borough Council; Jessica Scott, Conservation Officer, Planning & Development

1230 - 1300 Networking & Exhibition

Session 3: Mills – Future Development Plans

1300 - 1400

Mills are being repurposed for numerous schemes and in this session, we hear about those potential opportunities from the public and private sector – creating thriving new communities within heritage buildings.

Chair: Session Sponsor: (Available - click for details)
Capital & Centric; Tim Heatley, Co-founder
Staffordshire Moorlands District Council; Councillor Bill Cawley, Councillor
Burnley Borough Council; Kate Ingram, Strategic Head of Economy and Growth

1400 – 1430 Networking & Exhibition & Close
