Event Overview

The annual West Yorkshire Economic Growth Conference is set to bring together the region's business and public-sector leaders to discuss the key business themes and opportunities for growth, whilst allowing collaboration within the industry to drive economic growth. Building on last year's hugely successful event and the devolutionary advances that have been made over the last 12 months we'll be showcasing the region's potential, allowing you to hear from those businesses and regional authorities that are operating successfully within the current economic climate, and how you can get involved!

Yorkshire has a larger population than Scotland - with more than 5.3m people calling the region their home. With the arrival of HS2, the developments in Leeds set to see the City Centre double in size, the focus on transport connectivity to the North West and much more it's a truly exciting time for West Yorkshire - and this is a must attend for those in the built environment sector looking to be at the forefront of the region's future vision and development.
